The Mae and Bud Atkinson Collection

Americana and New England Country Primitives

Contents of the 1664 John Atkinson House

5 Hanover St, Newbury, MA
Saturday, October 26 at 11 am
Preview begins at 8 am

The sale features the lifelong collection of Mae and Leslie "Bud" Atkinson consisting of New England country antiques and primitives. In 1985 they purchased this first period center-entrance gem which was built by John Atkinson (Bud's 8th Great-Grandfather). Bud and Mae curated their home with a tasteful amassing purchased from local dealers, antique shops, auctions and shows. Their collection not only found its way into magazine pages in the 90's for its quiet visual sophistication but first and foremost remained a lived in home. Much of their everyday lives was a true example of 18th century living, from cooking in the open-hearth fireplace and dining by candlelight to raising heirloom chickens. Mae's favorite color was red which will become apparent as you walk through the home and view the period furnishings and décor still arranged very much as she left it at the time of her passing in 2016. Mae spent over 30 years as a volunteer and board member of the Museum of Old Newbury where she sat as chair of its collections. There she used her position to advocate historic preservation and encouraged others to do the same.
